News and updates for the counter fraud community

The future of fraud: Is seeing believing? Now only 1 weeks to go!

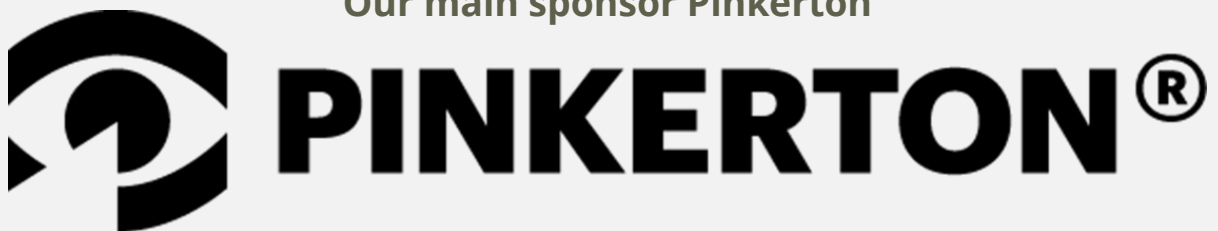

Join us on Thursday 29 February for The Fraud Conference 2024 at the Royal College of Physicians, London, hosted by the Fraud Advisory Panel, INSOL Europe and R3.

Our programme will bring together world-class experts including law makers, insolvency practitioners, counter fraud specialists and renowned academics to discuss the latest trends, innovations and developments in tackling economic crime under the theme 'The future of fraud: Is seeing believing?'.

This year's conference includes a variety of technical sessions, panel discussions, expert presentations and networking opportunities throughout the day.

We are delighted to welcome Edmonds Marshall McMahon as corporate members!

'EMM is the first and only specialist private prosecution law firm in the UK. Founded in 2012, we are a unique firm with an unrivalled track record in conducting major fraud investigations, prosecutions and regulatory work. Described as a firm with 'unsparing attention to detail' that is 'the very model of how fraud cases should be prosecuted in the Magistrates and Crown Courts' (Legal 500), our founding partners have a combined 70 years' experience in criminal justice having prosecuted for both the public and private sector.'

Other upcoming events

What to know on day one?

February 16 2024 11:00

The first day in a new role is exciting but can also be daunting if you are starting out in a new career. During this webinar our panel of speakers from across the spectrum of the counter fraud profession will discuss those early taskings, what to expect and how to tackle the start of a new journey.

Raising awareness

Counter-fraud is more than just catching fraudsters. Our panel of speakers will look at prevention and awareness campaigns; how we run them, the language we use and why delivering effective messaging is so important to the audiences they address.
